The Georgia Dairy Goat Breeders Association invites you and we look forward to your competing in the GA DGBA's 35th Annual Open Dairy Goat Show in Monroe, GA. We invite all ADGA & AGS registered goat owners to participate.

We've had many good comments from the committee & club exhibitors about the facility. We have clean restroom accommodations, plenty of parking & turning around space & an open-side covered double-ring with pen space, all under the same barn roof! Hope you'll come and be with us! We'll have a good time!

The show is more centrally located in Georgia – it's at the Walton County Agricultural Education Center in Monroe, Georgia. Access to the facility is very easy – it's just 3-4 miles South of Monroe, off GA 11 - at 1208 Criswell Road, SE, Monroe, GA 30655. If you have access to the Internet & would like to get an expanded map of the area, go to www.mapquest.com & do a search for the address given above. There are several motels in the area.

We'll have Junior Showmanship & our 2-ring shows on Saturday, June 4th. Judges for the shows are Kay & Joe Kimmel. We'll also be having an adult showmanship class. And, on Friday evening we'll be having a youth showmanship training session.

Each show will have a separately sanctioned senior, junior & buck show. Please note that group classes are included, but not duplicated in each ring. Winners will receive awards, ribbons and goodie buckets.

A pot-luck meal on Friday night & a hospitality breakfast on Saturday morning. An on-site vender will be selling food most of the day.

We're also publishing a show book! We would appreciate the advertisement of your herd or business in this booklet - whether or not you are an exhibitor in the show! It will list breed sponsors, show classes, ring events & other show information. This is a great opportunity for you to showcase your farm & at a reasonable price! Only $5.00 for a business card or $10.00 per page.

If you would just like to advertise in our show book, please send your ad or business card along with payment [make checks payable to GDGBA] to John Latimer [contact at LLacres@juno.com] at the address that is on the entry form. You need not be showing an animal to advertise!

We Hope to See You at the Show this year!
